

36th Annual Conference on Serving the Underserved 6th Latino Credit Union Conference June 9 - 12, 2010 – Pittsburgh, PA

Make your plans now to join us next summer in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for our 36th Annual Conference on Serving the Underserved and 6th Latino Credit Union Conference. Our program will feature presentations by top-level federal officials, innovative credit unions, researchers, and many more.

In addition to the great conference content you've come to expect, bring the entire family to Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh's monumental history helped shape the nation we know. Its history museums showcase the events and people who have led us to the modern day.

We've also arranged to tour the magnificent Manchester Craftsmen's Guild and Bidwell Training Center founded by Bill Strickland. Many of you may recall his moving speech at the Federation's New Orleans Conference in 2007 where he invited everyone to "come have lunch."

The 6th Latino Credit Union Conference, which is being organized in partnership with the Network of Latino Credit Unions and Professionals (NLCUP) will bring together credit union practitioners from throughout the nation that have been highly successful in serving the Latino community. You will have the opportunity to explore best practices, gain first hand knowledge of creative solutions and learn of innovations being used to serve this emerging market. Don't miss out on this unique opportunity!
